Visitors Welcome

JUNE 13 PROGRAM Work Party & Show and Tell

Join fellow clubmembers and guests in the multi-purpose room for an evening of conversation with old and new friends while filling grab bags with tumbled stones in preparation for the Fiesta of Gems. The postcards were already addressed, stamped, and mailed earlier in the month so we will have time for "Show & Tell". Bring your specimens and projects to share and let us "ooh" and "ah" over your handiwork.

This is also an opportunity to bring your UMR's (un-identified mystery rocks) and get help from fellow rockhounds to identify them.

PS: Bring extra small pots on June 13 - or bring them to the shop - we need them for the Fiesta of Gems Plant Sale.

COMING SOON

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Greetings fellow rock hounds and gem enthusiasts. We are at the fun time of year just before the June 25th and 26th Fiesta of Gems show in the Veterans Memorial Auditorium. The meeting this coming June 13th will be a fun work party. Anyone who has attended this final meeting prior to the show in years past, knows it as a productive couple of hours and fun opportunity to get to know other members. While the postcards were prepared and mailed last week, the Grab Bags still need to be arranged and filled with treasures.

With no formal program on the schedule, we will have a bit of extra time to socialize and I would encourage anyone with any mystery stones or other mineral samples you might be curious of provenance, to bring them for discussion. There is always an abundance of Earth Sciences knowledge present at every meeting, and asking a few questions to the group about compositions and origins will bring some lively discussion.

I hope anyone unable to attend this final work meeting will take it upon themselves to volunteer for short periods during the actual show to help greet attendees, sell the always popular raffle tickets, and perhaps be a walk-around security presence to help preserve our vendor's peace of mind. There is always some simple task to perform and if they are all evenly spread out amongst the membership, everyone will also get a chance to visit the show and feel good helping out as well.

Please give an appreciative cheer to the many organizers and we look forward to seeing everyone helping with set-up on June 24th, bright and early. As always, many hands make short work. This will be another great show with everyone's help and much credit to our caring community.

Here's wishing everyone a fun summer with much opportunity to spend time with family and friends outdoors in our incomparable Southern California and desert southwest. See you all on Monday June 13th and of course at the Fiesta of Gems show this last weekend in June.

Darrell Robb
President

I will need help to set up and clean the cases on Friday so please come and volunteer. Thanks.

CALLING ALL BAKERS

High on the list of why we get such great vendors at the Festival of Gems show is how we treat them, including treating them to homemade cookies.

If you can, please make about 6 dozen cookies and take them to Grace Soto's business on Wednesday, June 22nd. The address is:

Design Caster
5677 Selmaraine Dr,
Culver City, CA 90230
(310) 390-8100

If you can't find the time at home, perhaps you can do your baking in the cookie aisle of Whole Foods, Trader Joe's or another favorite shop.

CALIFORNIA FOSSIL IVORY ALERT

The California Ivory ban goes into effect on July 1st, and it will be illegal to sell any fossil ivory in the state after that date.

The legislation's definition; "Ivory" means a tooth or tusk from any species of elephant, hippopotamus, mammoth, mastodon, walrus, warthog, whale, or narwhal, or a piece thereof, whether raw ivory or worked ivory, and includes a product containing, or advertised as containing, ivory.

You will risk confiscation of your fossil ivory and very stiff fines and other penalties for having any of the legally collected material available during the shows or for sale in your business.

NO MORE PICKING? REPORT FROM THE FRONTLINE

Two of our members, DJ Gervais and Janelle Williams, went to the Bureau of Land Management (BLM) meeting on Friday, May 20, at Lavic Siding (in the Cady's). There was great turnout from rockhounds and the Desert District Advisory Council (DDAC) and the BLM.

DJ and Janelle represented CCRMC, and joined in making lots of signs and little tumbled stone grab bags for the DDAC/BLM people. The attendees explained their history of rockhounding and the importance of it here as well as the minimal impact rockhounds have on the environment. Stories and oral history were shared, and all in all it was a great experience for everyone.

Some traveled great distances to be there, others, like DJ and Janelle, took the day off work to come. Everyone learned something, and it looks like the government folks are in full support of keeping access open for us.

See the CCRMC website for a letter from Senator Feinstein, an article from the LA Times, and various other information regarding the three newly designated national monuments in the Mojave Desert.

SHOP NEWS

Shop schedule

Check our website, www.culvercityrocks.org, for scheduled open time and last minute information, or call the shop (310-836-4611) after the scheduled opening time to confirm that an instructor has arrived.

Show time!

June 25 and 26 are the Fiesta of Gems show days. The Shop is where most of what we use to put on the show each year is stored. All this material, cloth covers for the dealer tables, display cases, tools, signs, cash boxes, tickets, garden materials for plant sales, book sales tables and books, dozens of heavy duty electricity extension cables, PA system components... A lot of stuff, and it all needs to be moved from the Shop to the auditorium on Friday morning, June 24. Then it needs to be put in place in the auditorium as soon as possible so the dealers can set-up their materials so they are ready for the rush of people on Saturday morning.

The auditorium has in past years typically been opened to us at 10 o'clock AM, sometimes a little earlier. Come to the Shop Saturday morning at about 8:30 or 9 o'clock to help. There are both light-weight and heavy items, also delicate, keep-it-clean items and robust items.

Show wrap-up

Transport of everything back to the Shop and into storage for the following year's show follows on Sunday starting at 5 pm. This is always a time of an odd mixture of elation and ending, of satisfaction and fatigue. The dismantling, loading and storage back at the Shop typically goes quickly for most volunteers. For a few of us who work to the time the lights are turned out and the doors locked... well, I can only say the feeling of success and fatigue are a powerful mixture, call it what you will, I call it happiness.

Limited parking in back of the shop is open for use. Park on the asphalt, off the alley concrete to avoid a parking citation. Please respect the space reserved for the shop instructor next to the paddle-tennis court.

On behalf of the Shop Committee,
Bruce Mensinger

BENCH TIPS

QUICK CLOSE-UPS

Often when trying to get a close-up photo with your iPhone or Android, you end up with a fuzzy, out-of-focus image. Next time try using your loupe over the camera lens. It works quickly and easily.

LITTLE THINGS CAN BITE

Most jewelers treat motorized equipment with caution. We've all heard stories about workpieces coming loose in the drill press or about getting long hair or clothing caught in the polishing machine. It stands to reason that a machine with a motor of a half horsepower or so is going to win out over its operator. We all know that, and I'm not going to harp on it. That's not the point of this story.

I want to talk about the smaller motor powered machines we often use, the ones with little 3 inch diameter motors. For instance, these small motors are used in flexshafts and micro buffers. They're so small that many of us forget caution when using them. I'm guilty of it myself sometimes, and believe me it can get you in trouble. Here's what happened to two people I know.

One friend had a polishing bur bend in the hand-piece and then whack the thumb that was holding the workpiece so badly that it seemed the bone might be broken. The swelling was substantial, and it took several weeks to regain normal use. A small under-powered motor? I don't think so.

Another friend was using one of the small buffing machines, the kind you can stop when you apply too much pressure to the wheel. Not to worry about such an underpowered beast you say. Wrong, it literally jumped up and bit the hand that feeds it !

Buffer was set on a low table to do a quick polish, so was not mounted or clamped. A buff was installed on the right spindle, no buff on the left. Friend was wearing a tight-fitting, long-sleeved sweater. While buffing on the right wheel, the left tapered spindle caught a thread on the friend's left sleeve and started grabbing more and more threads and sleeve.

Rather than pulling the arm into the machine, the light buffer quickly lifted off the table and started climbing up the underside of the friend's arm. There was no way to get a hand of the on/off switch because the unit was spinning wildly and battering my friend like a club wielded by a mad man. Only when my friend could grab the gyrating power cord and yank it from the wall did the mayhem stop.

So when you're in the shop, please think safety. Don't take even those little motors for granted.

PROGRAM REPORT May 9

Ken Rogers introduced Kent Lauer, a geologist and renowned glass artist who has been working with glass for over 30 years.

Mr. Lauer delivered an entertaining presentation, where he explained how he has always been fascinated by light, iridescence and prisms, learned beveling in one week at school and went onto teach all over the world, and even developed his own machines.

Mr. Lauer explained his beveling techniques, answered several questions and illustrated his presentation with numerous pictures and actual samples of his beautiful work, which included glass windows and panels, jewelry, and interesting fossil figures.

MOJAVE TRAILS NATIONAL MONUMENT UPDATE

Excerpted from communication from John Martin,
CFMS Public Lands Advisory Committee Chairman

This is an 'ALERT' of major proportions. We have scored big with an article by Louis Sahagun, a 30 year veteran reporter of the LA TIMES who wrote about the three new national monuments in our Southern California desert. He has brought the plight of the rockhound and how we are currently being forced out of our 80 year old collecting sites.

The article: "You can hike, camp, fish and climb in the new Mojave Trails monument, but you can't do this!" LA Times May 7, 2016 by Louis Sahagun can be found on the ALAA Website under National Monuments - Mojave Trails National Monument <http://www.amlands.org/6652/index.html>

Please take a minute to send Louis Sahagun a thank you for his enlightening article. Give your name, city and state and tell him in a few words if you have ever collected in our desert, or if you have something, an agate, jasper, or other item from the desert given to you. We want him to know his article went viral and has been seen all over the US by rockhounds, and our friends in Canada....they can chime in too. Snow birds from all over the US have made our desert a haven for years...from October through March....if rockhounding is closed to all of us, it will impact the economy of the small towns in the area....and no amount of bike riders and hikers will take their place.

The CFMS PLAC in association with ALAA wishes to personally thank each of our CFMS Societies and individual members for helping to do whatever you can to keep our hobby of collecting, vibrant and alive.

- Treasurer Report: Franne Einberg reminded she needed a description of the Club activities to be included in the Club's tax filings. The description was to include past, present and planned activities, with percentages of efforts and time allocated to each activity. Barbara Fier committed to working on the past activities description and Darrell Robb on the current activities description.
- Librarian Report: Bruce Mensinger discussed digitizing The Nugget editions for archiving. He also informed that he had been acquiring books for the library as well as the show.

At Ms. Einberg's request, Ms. Jones-Elbling was to look up the draft contract securing the auditorium to clarify the apparent room rate increase; she was concerned that the Club may not have been granted a 10% discount to which it was entitled. At Ms. Jones-Elbling's request, Ms. Einberg was to review the paperwork she had completed. Ms. Jones-Elbling said she was going to meet with Brad Smith that week to confirm all steps to secure the venue, overnight security, permits and other elements were being taken.
